Product Overview

Adept's Packaged Web Hosting options provide an effective means of self-managing your hosting requirements, coupled with essential tools for a comprehensive service value.

Websites remain a fundamental source of contact data, individual and business information, as well as a feedback and interaction tool for online entities.

While clients remain responsible for the content and configuration of the website, they can remain confident that our range of options will feature a hosting solution to match their needs, and that their website will be up and running without delay, on our fully redundant infrastructure.

Main Features and Advantages

Flexibility	Change and maintain your hosting preferences at will and without fuss
Dedicated Adept infrastructure	Clients need not spend capital on independent hardware
Secure and always-on	Looked after by expert engineers, Web Hosting services are robust and available
Easy to manage and cost-effective	Call in or mail for direct support, and enjoy financial benefits from low pricing
Integrated email services	Advanced malware and spam filters, plus the ability to check mail from anywhere

Additional Options

Web Hosting requires clients to have a registered Internet domain. Adept can assist with this should a client request it.

Adept also offers website alias and SSL services, including SSL annual certificates.

cPanel Management

The cPanel interface provides the user with the ability to self-manage their web hosting system. Users maintain personal control over their website content and associated settings. As such, clients remain responsible for their sites' passwords and password changes, backup schedules, as well as updates to their Content Management Systems and all associated add-ons.

The control panel allows for the easy performing of tasks such as creating email accounts, mail forwarding and auto-responding setups, FTP accounts and viewing website statistics.
